Wages are stagnating or decreasing. It's hard for a lot of us to find stable and well-paying jobs. Things are becoming more and more competitive. Rent, the cost of living and taxes are rising. Our working hours are getting longer and it's harder to retire early. Crime rates are going up. There have been corruption cases and scandals. What is going on?

Singapore deserves answers and solutions to the problems that we are facing. Singapore deserves bravery and commitment to resolving issues that put us and our loved ones at risk, be it physically, financially, socially, culturally or politically.

We deserve our bread and butter. We deserve safety and security. We deserve fairness, transparency and the courage to deal with problems head-on. We deserve a future that we can ALL look forward to — not fear or dread.

We started as a small fishing village and we've prospered. But the world is always changing and growing. We can do more and we can do better. We can take care of ourselves, while also taking care of our neighbours and looking out for people who might need an extra hand.

Singapore is worth loving and fighting for.

It is our homes. It is our land.

It is all we've ever known.

Singapore deserves justice.
